ROSSI BOOTS

Rossi Boots is a next-generation manufacturer with the soul of a master boot maker from 1910.

After 106 years, Rossiter's Pty Ltd is still owned by the Rossiter family, with each successive generation inheriting the passion of their ancestors to make great Australian boots.

In a world of fast and disposable fashion, we choose to maintain our old fashioned values by crafting quality boots that stand the test of time and are a pleasure to wear.

MADE IN AUSTRALIA

We're a modern factory with a strong sense of where we've come from, and one of the few remaining boot makers committed to manufacturing in Australia.

Our factory employs skilled sewing machinists, cutters and craftspeople, retaining local manufacturing skills and imbuing our product with the quality that comes from taking pride in our craft.

Today, our factory still cuts the leather, sews boot uppers and moulds boot soles, we have an in-house design team, and advanced expertise in safety wear and professional footwear requirements.

We've come a long way since Arthur Rossiter started making boots in his backyard shed in 1910. Technology has changed, and the factory is bigger, but our principles of craftsmanship, quality and comfort remain the same.
